From Paris in the 1960s to London's modern days, Madeleine and her daughter Vera waltz in and out of the lives of the men they love. But love can be light and painful, cheerful and bitter.

An elegy to femininity and passion with musical outbursts.

"Performed with relish by a star-studded cast."

Mike Goodridge, Screen International

Honoré's "most beautiful film"

Gérard Lefort, Libération
